Client Onboarding Playbook (GoHighLevel)

Before the call

- Confirm the call time, time zone and meeting link with the client
- Send a short intake form asking for: business name, address, phone, website, logo, business hours, services offered and team members
- Ask the client to have their login details for their domain, email and social accounts ready if you will connect them
- Create or open the client's account in GHL and check you have admin access
- Open the setup checklist below in a second window
- Start screen recording (Loom) if the client agreed, so they can rewatch the steps

Call agenda (45 to 60 minutes)

Minutes	Step	What to do
0-5	Welcome	Greet the client, confirm their goal, explain the plan for the call
5-20	Business profile	Enter or check business name, address, phone, website, hours and logo
20-25	Personal profile	Set the user's name, email, time zone, phone and notification settings
25-35	Calendar	Create the booking calendar, set availability, duration, buffers and confirmation messages
35-50	Pipeline	Build stages that match how the client sells, then add a test contact
50-60	Recap	Summarize what was done, confirm next steps and the support contact

Setup checklist

1. Business profile

- Business name, legal name and industry
- Address, phone number and website
- Logo uploaded
- Business hours and time zone
- Email and phone details used for messages sent to leads

2. Personal profile

- Full name and email for each user
- Phone number and time zone
- Profile photo
- Notification settings (new leads, appointments, messages)
- Email signature (if they want to use it)

3. Calendar

- Calendar name and description a customer will understand
- Meeting length and a buffer between bookings
- Weekly availability and days off
- Assigned team member(s)
- Confirmation and reminder messages
- Test booking made and checked in the calendar

4. Pipeline

- Stages matching the client's real sales steps, for example New Lead, Contacted, Appointment Booked, Proposal Sent, Won, Lost
- A one-line definition for each stage
- A test contact moved through every stage
- Client understands who moves a lead from one stage to the next

Call script

Opening:

"Hi [Name], thanks for joining. My name is Rehan, and I'll be setting up your account today. By the end of this call, your business profile, your calendar and your sales pipeline will be ready to use. Is there anything you most want to get out of today?

Before we start the actual onboarding, I would like to tell you that we strictly follow a 60 minute deadline, so even if something doesn't make sense to you after you try it yourself, you can reach out to us and book another call.

Content:

First we'll make sure your business details are correct, because they appear in the messages your customers receive. Can you confirm your business name, phone number and address?

Next is your own profile, so notifications reach you at the right email and time zone. Which email do you check most often?

Now your booking calendar. How long should each appointment be, and which days and hours can people book you? I'll add a buffer so you aren't booked back to back.

This part tracks every lead from first contact to a closed sale. Walk me through what usually happens when a new customer contacts you, and I'll turn that into stages.

(If the clients asks for something you don't know about)

Good question. I want to give you the right answer, so I'll check and message you within one business day.

Closing:

Here's what we finished today: your business profile, your profile, your calendar and your pipeline. I'll send a summary and the recording after the call. For any questions, reach me at [contact]. Is there anything you'd like me to repeat?

After the call

Send an email to the client confirming what we did.

Template:

Subject: Your account setup is complete

Hi [Name],

Thanks for your time today. Here is what we finished:

1. Business profile: [details confirmed]
2. Your profile: [email and notifications set]
3. Calendar: [name, hours, meeting length]
4. Pipeline: [list the stages]

Recording: [link]

Next steps for you:

- [action 1, with date]
- [action 2, with date]

If anything looks off or you have a question, reply here and I'll respond within one business day.

Best,

Rehan
